THE A. JOHNSON CO., LLC
106 Andrew Johnson Dr.
Bristol, VT 05443

Now located in Bristol, Vermont, in the foothills of the Green Mountains, The A. Johnson Co. began in 1906 near Saratoga, New York. Andrew Johnson and three sons started out by purchasing stumpage to cut up with their portable sawmill. Over the next couple of decades, the operation continued in this manner, moving to various lots in New York, then in New Hampshire, and finally, to Vermont. In the 1920's, the Company built a semi-permanent sawmill in Lincoln, Vermont. In the late 1930's, the business moved to its present location. With a sawmill, dry kilns, and a planer operation, the Company sells to a worldwide market. Leadership passes from generation to generation, but the goal of providing high quality lumber in a timely basis remains a constant throughout.

Since 1944, The A. Johnson Co. has managed its timberland to provide a source of timber for the future. Our foresters use selective cutting techniques and other sound forestry practices to achieve sustainable forestry objectives. We also provide these services to our timber management clients. Managing our timber resource base for the long run is a mainstay of our management philosophy.
